This information is therefore useful to potential students to help them choose the right course of study, to current students on the course and to staff teaching and administering the course.

Further detailed information on the individual modules within the course may be found in the relevant module descriptors and the Course Handbook provided to students on enrolment.

Please refer to the Course and Module Catalogue for further information on the course structure and modules.

Educational aims of the course

The MA Theatre: Socially Engaged Practice is aimed at developing established professionals working in the cultural, charity or education sectors. The course focuses on the ways that theatre and performance can be a powerful tool for social change. The course supports students to explore methods and techniques when using drama and theatre in community settings such as youth groups, mental health settings and centres for older people or people with illnesses, schools and early years settings, museums, civic sites, etc. The course focuses on theatre as a community-building tool and will enable students to develop their own reflective community arts practice.

The MA Theatre: Socially Engaged Practice aims to:

- Provide students with a challenging and stimulating environment in which to engage in advanced study of socially engaged theatre practices
- Equip students with the tools to facilitate community and civic engagement through theatre
- Provide students with the skills and knowledge required to maximise career opportunities in socially engaged performance and arts practices
- Equip socially engaged theatre students with the necessary transferrable skills for lifelong learning and flexibility in the context of changing labour markets
