This course specification provides a summary of the main features of the course, identifies the aims and learning outcomes of the course, the teaching, learning and assessment methods used by teaching staff, and the reference points used to inform the curriculum.

This information is therefore useful to potential students to help them choose the right course of study, to current students on the course and to staff teaching and administering the course.

Further detailed information on the individual modules within the course may be found in the relevant module descriptors and the Course Handbook provided to students on enrolment.

Please refer to the Course and Module Catalogue for further information on the course structure and modules.

Educational aims of the course

- To provide an opportunity to study at Higher Education without committing to a full degree course
- To equip students with the necessary transferable skills for lifelong learning, employability and flexibility in the context of changing labour markets
- To provide students with the skills and knowledge required to maximise career and further undergraduate study opportunities
- To provide a framework within which academic knowledge and understanding is integrated with vocational skills and competency
- To offer an accessible, flexible and coherent programme in which word-based learning is an integral part
- To make an important contribution to widening participation in Higher Education and to meet the demand for Level 4 qualifications which support skill development in the workplace.

Undergraduate learning at work programmes aim to equip students to progress within their specific fields of practice. More generally, the programme aims to:

- value and accredit the student's relevant prior learning.
- provide learning relevant to the career development of people who are in work.
- offer study of skills and current technology and business practice relevant to the student and his/her employer.
- provide a quality assured framework that enables negotiated study programmes
- ensure flexibility within the programme that meets the variable time constraints and changing strategic needs of the world of work.

The overall philosophy of the Learning at Work Programme is to encourage and reward career related lifelong learning by:

- Accrediting career related and self-managed learning that is at undergraduate level.
- Enhancing the scholarship of work-based learners, by requiring the development of a range of self-managed, conceptual and analytical skills applicable to practical problems within their professional fields.
- Assisting in the personal and professional development of students so that they may improve the contribution they can make to the organisations in which they are employed.
- Furthering the University's plans for expanding work-based learning and widening participation, by offering education that is relevant to the economy (local, national and international) and by maximising learning partnerships between the University and industry, commerce, the service and voluntary sectors.
- Encouraging industry and commerce to become partners in developing their employees' technical and business competences

Academic Regulations

The current University of Portsmouth Academic Regulations will apply to this course.

Support for Student Learning

The University of Portsmouth provides a comprehensive range of support services for students throughout their course, details of which are available at the MyPort student portal.

In addition to these University support services this course also provides...

- The Programme is managed by a Programme Director, Programme Leader and Department Manager.
- An induction programme introduces the student to the University and Programme and this is followed by successive learning management and study skills workshops. The programme will include course related issues on learning contracts, WBL, reflective writing, independent study, student support and library induction and research methods. It will support students to navigate their course structure and the online Moodle environment.
- Each student has a learning manager, personal tutor and module/project tutors. Students are encouraged to seek a mentor within their workplace to provide professional support and guidance.
- Personal and group tutor sessions will enable students the opportunity to develop a community of peer support and provide support with study skills and using feedback/feedforward on assessments.
- The Learning Management module enables the student to determine their existing learning and, with support from the University, peers and workplace analyse the skills, knowledge and behaviours they wish to develop for effective performance at work and career enhancement.
- Students will be provided with networking opportunities to gain peer support from Learning at Work students.
- Students will be supported through a Course Moodle site providing an online community of learning and professional development and their student handbook.
- Course materials and teaching will be provided through module Moodle sites. Learning opportunities with the full Learning at Work student community will be made available through the Learning at Work Home module site encouraging students to learn alongside their peers studying at different levels of the programme.
- Students will have the use of the Learning at Work online CPD courses to further their professional development and networking opportunities.

Evaluation and Enhancement of Standards and Quality in Learning and Teaching

The University of Portsmouth undertakes comprehensive monitoring, review and evaluation of courses within clearly assigned staff responsibilities. Student feedback is a key feature in these evaluations, as represented in our Policy for Listening to and Responding to the Student Voice where you can also find further information.

Disclaimer

The University of Portsmouth has checked the information provided in this Course Specification and will endeavour to deliver this course in keeping with this Course Specification. However, changes to the course may sometimes be required arising from annual monitoring, student feedback, and the review and update of modules and courses.

Where this activity leads to significant changes to modules and courses there will be prior consultation with students and others, wherever possible, and the University of Portsmouth will take all reasonable steps to minimise disruption to students.

It is also possible that the University of Portsmouth may not be able to offer a module or course for reasons outside of its control, for example, due to the absence of a member of staff or low student registration numbers. Where this is the case, the University of Portsmouth will endeavour to inform applicants and students as soon as possible, and where appropriate, will facilitate the transfer of affected students to another suitable course.
